New Jersey – January 4, 2007 – Hilary London and HL Home, the leading designer of murano glass jewelry and giftware, proudly announces its Spring/Summer 2007 collections. These collections include new bold jewelry pieces, as well as trend setting giftware items.

Hilary London and HL Home combine traditional murano techniques with today's fashion to create stunning, beautiful pieces. Made using centuries old methods, each bead, bowl, and handle are one-of-a-kind, handmade works of art. The pieces are designed with everyone in mind, from the hot trend setters to those with more classic tastes. The collections have something for everyone, at every price point.

“I go to Italy with my design ideas and handpick the Murano glass used in each creation. I continue to have my collections handmade in Venice to retain the Italian glass making traditions,” said Hilary Foster, founder and designer for Hilary London and the HLHome Collection. “This year I have softened our color palate to stay with the trends I see in apparel, so you will see additions of shades of pinks and soft grey blues in our jewelry collection. I am also introducing a new bold color palate for our giftware collection.”
